Rates at the Japanese Hotels in Honolulu.

FOR BOARD AND LODGING

Places Visited—The Rooms and the Fare—One Select Establishment—Transients.

Hundreds of the black haired, nervous, aggressive little men from the Orient patronize steadily the Japanese boarding and lodging houses with which the downtown of Honolulu is spotted. What manner of living is there in these hotels? What are the rates?

There is but a single method by which these narrow confines may be penetrated by a seeker for information. Secure the interpreter, an individual ever ready for any enterprise, fix on a ruse and make the visits. An arrangement for deceit is necessary. Your resident Japanese is not at all simple minded. Not at all. He is ever alert, always suspicious. He is not awed by the white man, because he thinks himself the equal of any man. And how he has mastered knowledge of his "rights." He more than knows that his house is his castle.

Take first the little place on Merchant street, opposite the Wawan's Exchange. It is in every way just the same as many others. The wife of the proprietor meets the interpreter and reporter. She smiles as she listens to a request in effect that it is desired to house a yard boy at the place for a few weeks.

The husband is called. He smiles, hears his wife and the visitors, and then ponders. Lodging—and very excellent lodging can be had for the boy. But he must find food elsewhere, for the place has no restaurant license and the policemen pass it often. Well, yes; of course. But this boy must be fed and it will only be for a short time. All right, but there is risk. Like to see the room? It is inspected. The food. There shall be plenty of it and equal in every respect to the fare of the best Japanese hotel in Honolulu. The menu will include rice, fish, vegetables, soy and all the tea desired.

How much? This is a quiet, select place and the employer of the boy pays and wants his servant to receive good care. What does he say to twenty-five cents a day for board and lodging? There will be a lamp in the room and a mosquito net is supplied. Bath? No, the bath is not given. However, ten tickets for ten baths are sold for a dime, and the bathing place is not far distant.

It is all satisfactory, and perhaps the yard boy will come and be a guest for a time. Is there much business now? Oh, yes, the hotel is doing well. More Japanese are coming to town all the time. They come from plantations.

The sleeping accommodations depend on the custom. In a rush, room must be made for all who appear. None can be turned away. At times the hallways and even the kitchen are used for lodging places. Effort is made to ventilate. Windows and doors are left open. There may be three persons or there may be a score in a room eight by ten feet.

One more hotel will be visited. Let it be several, for there are a number in a group in Chinatown, in the Japan sea. There are more people coming and going down in this part of town, and there are more Japanese about the house. This proprietor does not deliberate and smiles sparingly. He says his rate is twenty cents a day straight to any one and for any length of time. The figure is the same in all this neighborhood. The Merchant street man had a special price, as well as a select place. Perhaps the additional five cents a day was for taking the chance of having a boarder and no victualing license.

The twenty cent places are or seem to be uniform in space allotment and furnishing. There is very little bed clothing, as it is seldom used. The pillows are for the guests to fix 'or themselves. Baths must be taken outside, and the same price of a ticket for ten baths for ten cents is quoted. The interpreter says at once and a number of the boarders promptly testify that the food is sufficient and of correct variety and proper serving. And, mark it, guests without baggage must pay in advance.

These hotels do a great amount of transient business. This comes from the plantations in the vicinity of Honolulu. Large numbers of the laborers spend Sunday in the city. They find the fee of twenty cents a day for board and lodging quite to their liking. The great rushes at these places are when a steamer with free labor aboard arrives from Japan, or when a large number of Japanese come to town as strikers, or for a holiday.

THE BREW OF OLYMPIUS.

THE "HOFFMAN," corner of Hotel and Nuuanu streets, claims to be the "Banner" resort for gentlemen and holds the flag. L. H. Dee, the proprietor, has attained success in his line, by specially and personally supervising everything connected with his establishment. He now introduces to his patrons "Olympia Beer." This brew is from the "Capital Brewing Co." of Olympia, the capital of the State of Washington, and was received by the "Garonne." Mr. Schmitt, the leading spirit of this corporation, is a practical Chemist and Brewer, and after years of search and investigation located his plant at Olympia, on account of the peculiar virtues of the water of the Tum Falls, a stream that is noted for its distinctive qualities of clearness, coldness and lack of mineral and decaying vegetable impurities. Pure beer can only be made with pure water, and Tum water is traditional in Washington with the Indians and original white settlers. The "Olympia Draught" is under the special control and agency of Mr. Dee and he invites his patrons and friends to a personal test and is willing to abide by their judgment on the merits of his latest venture.
